STAYING GOLDEN

Everything in life fades away as time passes. These are the golden years of our life, even though we may not realize it just yet. In the future we will look back and think about how much fun we had. Friends will grow apart and the word fun will go from Friday night movies with friends to getting your child potty trained so you don't have to change diapers anymore.

Look around you, everything is gold. Green and gold sports uniforms to gold academic pins. Golden leaves to golden sunsets. Golden memories of golden moments that we will cherish for the rest of our lives.

Even though we are all growing and changing, no matter what happens, we need to try to stay the way we are... perfectly golden.

FACES AND PLACES

Hoover High School, home of the Huskies, with students standing tall and proud, learning to adjust to the new atmosphere. By the end of the year, however, we all became one individual.

From pep rallies to academics, we all played a part in making up the walls of this school. We cheered on the teams and we congratulated the seniors. We studied hard, asked questions and took exams. Most importantly, we became bright individuals all taking charge of our needs and wants.

When you walked the halls and talked to friends, when you played your best or cheered your loudest at a game, you created a second life for yourself and others that will be remembered for a long time to come. This is our student life.

SHOOTING FOR SUCCESS

Toward the end of the summer, students start filling the halls to start another long, yet exciting year at Hoover.

Students then realize it's time to begin putting in a great effort academically.

Hoover has a variety of clubs including Central Campus; a program for students who want to broaden their educations by attending another school and P.E.O.P.E.L. P.E.; a gym class set up to work with the special needs students.

There are so many other clubs and activities that every student can get involved in and each one is evolved around the students doing their best. With students involved within the school, they make up the name and legacy of Hoover High School.

GETTING INVOLVED

A lot of students take part in a wide variety of the activities here at Hoover.

Whether it's before or after school, there are always students around. The students that devote themselves to their activities must find time, as well as their commitments to their academics.

Each competitive activity involves hours of hard work and practice.

Students gain skills in communication and leadership that will be a great advantage for many years to come.

Being involved in activities help shape Hoover's school spirit. No matter what activity, students are in the experiences which enrich their lives.

GOING FOR THE GOLD

Sports are a large part of a student's life. Regardless of how you fit into the sports program, you are golden.

Students join sport teams for many reasons. For some it's the feel of the wind through their hair as they race toward the finish line. For others, it's the thrill of scoring a touchdown in the Home coming game. Others participate on the sidelines by cheering on the team to a victory.

Through a sport, a family is formed.

As the years pass, remember your family from Hoover. Remember that you will always have those friendships. Remember to stay golden.

THROUGH THE HALLS

The students are what make this school what it is. Without the students, Hoover would just be a building and nothing more. Our students have different interests, talents, and backgrounds; and this school is something we all have in common.

The freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors all come together with different fears, experience levels and expectations. The students pass familiar faces in the halls, as well as faces they have never seen before.

The diverse faces you meet in the halls, the new experiences, and the memories of high school will last you a lifetime.

BURSTING WITH SPIRIT

Homecoming week this year was a bit different from those of the past. We only had three dress up days this year. Tuesday was flashback day, in which students were encouraged to dress in clothes that represented the past era of their choice. Thursday was senior toga day and pajama day for the underclassmen. Friday was the traditional green and gold day in which students expressed their school spirit.

The hour o' fun this year was held at the stadium on Thursday and was filled with many new activities. There was a dunk tank in which students and teachers were the dunkees. The main event was the crazy and disgusting hot dog eating contest in which volunteers from each grade level tried to eat as many hot dogs as they could in one minute. Tug of war between all grade levels and the three legged race ended the hour o' fun just in time for the bell.

The car rally was held on Friday before the game, and there were a record 63 cars in attendance. The rally cruised around town getting everyone fired up for the game. The final game score was 13-2, East.

HOMECOMING

ROYALTY

The excitement of the new school year was made even greater when ten seniors were voted to be attendants on the Homecoming court. This year's senior attendants were Kourtney Horner, Colin Johnson, Ben Minnis, Dave Newman, Amy Petersen, Aimee Ramsey, Dave Rude, Tara Taylor, T.J. Welton and Abbey Williams. Seniors Dave Rude and Abbey Williams were named King and Queen at the Homecoming assembly.

Abbey Williams has been actively involved during her years at Hoover. She has participated in volleyball, softball, Homecoming committee, Spirit committee, student council, Spring Dance committee, Prom committee and has been a football and a basketball cheerleader. On the experience of being a member of the court, she said, "I had a great experience on Homecoming court. We all had a lot of fun and I'm glad I got a chance to experience that with all my friends."

Dave Rude has also been an active leader within the school; participating in FCA, basketball, baseball, track, cross country and NHS.

Underclassmen attendants were freshmen Camron Hawkins and Stephanie Kelly, sophomores Shannon Bolte and Steve Rude and juniors Anita Halfwassen and Eric Sharp.

SHOWING SPIRIT

The Homecoming Assembly held on September 19th was one of the best pep assemblies Hoover has had in quite a few years.

The assembly started out with the spirit tunnel, which is a long time tradition at Hoover. Next, we were introduced to the Homecoming Court and their families.

It was exciting to see all of the great performances done by the talents here at Hoover. A few performances were done by the Jazz Band who played the song Lady Madonna; and some dance routines done by the flag corps, drill team, and varsity cheerleaders.

This year, they added something new and entertaining to the assembly, the pie in the face. It was given to an athlete who got the most votes. The winner was senior Ann Marie Hansen.

Towards the end, we found out this year's Homecoming King and Queen were Dave Rude and Abbey Williams. This year's assembly was one to remember.

CARNIVAL CRAZE

All week students come to school dressed in all sorts of outfits while homecoming committees worked to make the assembly and Hour of Fun a success. The anticipation of the whole week was the game on Friday and the dance on Saturday.

The dance was very colorful with the student center and the gym decorated to fit with this year's theme "Carnival". The art department created posters that went along with the Carnival theme. Keeping with past traditions the deejay was set up in the gymnasium and the student center was a place for students to display their singing abilities with the karoake machine set up. A new thing this year was the caricature artist.

Commenting on the dance, senior Spencer McGinnis said he thought the dance was very carnivalicious. Other students said that they felt there was always something to do during the evening.

Amy Petersen, co-chair of the dance, commented on what she thought of the dance. "I was very pleased with the dance as a whole. The dance was ran well, we had great attendance, and it looked like everyone was having fun."

CRAZY DAYS

This year's Winter Spirit Week was a little toned down. We only had three days to act a little crazier than we do on a normal day.

The Spirit Week started with Elementary Day on Tuesday, followed by Green and Gold Day on Thursday, and, finally, Winter Wonderland Day, which was held on Friday.

Green and Gold Day was the most popular this year. People were getting their spirits up for the pep assembly, also held on Thursday.

The annual student/faculty game was held on Friday; and, once again, the faculty beat out the senior girls in volleyball and the senior boys in basketball.

STUDENTS

OF ALL SEASONS

Every February, three underclassmen and six seniors are recognized for their leadership, academic achievement and extra-curricular activities. At the same time, three teachers are also put in the spotlight for their ways of teaching and their involvement with students and the school. Here they receive the title of Students and Teacher of All Seasons.

Each class votes for its representative, underclassmen getting one attendant and seniors choosing six candidates. This year's underclassmen attendants were freshman Matt Wessing, sophomore Meghan Kelso, and junior Michalle Hirsch. The senior candidates were David Buckley, Ben Minnis, David Newman, Justin Song, Tara Taylor, and T.J. Welton. The teacher candidates were Janiece Ochoa, Mary Anne Spicer and Linda Thomson.

On Thursday, February 26th, the annual Student of All Seasons assembly recognized these students and their families before announcing the Student and Teacher of All Seasons. This year the award went to senior Ben Minnis and teacher Mary Anne Spicer.

ENTERTAINMENT TO THE MAX

On February 26th, Hoover students and faculty gathered in the gym for the annual Student of All Seasons assembly. The assembly this year was put together by junior Kristin Sokugawa.

Opening the assembly was the spirit tunnel, formed by the basketball cheerleaders. Freshman Nick Thompson then played the National Anthem on the tenor saxophone, followed by the cheers "Husky Bark" and "Stand Up Be Proud", lead by the cheerleaders.

Next in the assembly, the Student of All Seasons attendants and candidates made their way through the arch of swords by the ROTC, arm in arm with their parent escorts. This year's underclassmen attendants were freshman Matt Wessing, sophomore Meghan Kelso and junior Michalle Hirsch. The senior candidates were David Buckley, Ben Minnis, David Newman, Justin Song, Tara Taylor and T.J. Welton. The teacher candidates were Janiece Ochoa, Mary Anne Spicer and Linda Thomson.

The rest of the assembly was filled with entertainment provided by harmony, jazz band, senior cheerleaders, drill team, varsity basketball cheerleaders and the popular shoot-out. Seniors Amy Petersen and Maggie Beavers won for the girls, while seniors David Newman and David Rude took the title for the guys.

Following the shoot-out, the winners of the election were announced. Graduate April Taylor gave up her seat to this year's winner, Ben Minnis. Last year's Teacher of All Seasons, Mr. Eller, gave his seat to Mrs. Spicer. Lastly, the spirit stick contest was done, with the sophomore class winning. Overall, the assembly was a great success.

WINTER WONDERLAND

This year's winter formal was held at the Botanical Center from 8-11 PM. This year's theme was Winter Wonderland with the colors of blue, silver and white. The chairpersons for the dance were junior Eric Sharp and senior Ben Minnis.

"With everybody's cooperation and hard work, we put together a good spirit week and dance. I was proud to be a part of it," said Sharp.

"It was wintertastic. The atmosphere provided an environment which enabled the patrons to enjoy themselves and each other," said Minnis.

Junior Mike Fong, an attendant the dance said, "It's nice to see everyone dressed up, plus the lush plant life was aesthetically pleasing."

GETTING AWAY

Students took a week off to travel around the United States, and some traveled to other countries. Some of the places they went were: California, Colorado, Arizona, Florida, Cancun, New Mexico, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Cozumel, Illinois, New York, Missouri, Lake of the Ozarks, London, Germany, and Ireland. There were students who chose to stay in Des Moines and work.

A group of seniors took the annual trip to Cancun, Mexico, to spend a week without parents. The band spent 4 days in Orlando at Disney World and also visited Kennedy Space Center. Mr. Hollingsworth took 25 students to Cozumel, Cancun, and Playa del Carmen for a week in the sun. Whether it was 30 degrees or 90 degrees, students enjoyed the time away from school and homework.

This year, there were fourteen seniors that received the honor of being recognized in the top three percent. These people are preceived to be dedicated and hard working students who have put in more than their fair share of homework hours.

Most of the seniors expressed pride at being included in the top three percent of their class. They feel that the hard work that they have put in during the last four years is finally paying off.

The leaders of this pack are heading in many different directions after graduation. Most have high goals for themselves and hope that they will continue to do well in the future. As they look toward the future, their names will always stay golden.

Brenda Bass

"It is a real honor to be in the top 3% of such a great class. I have always set high standards for myself in everything I do. It is important to give it my best inside and outside of school."

Margaret Beavers

"Being in the top 3% is a nice way to show my parents that I've worked hard during high school. I hope I can apply the same effort in college next year."

David Buckley

"Being in the top 3% is a great honor for me because it is something achieved over four years. A lot of people tell me I'm an idiot, so it's nice knowing 97% of them are dumber than I am."

Nathaniel Curl

"It took a lot of hard work, and it's quite an honor. I want to be a pediatrician and possibly do some medical research."

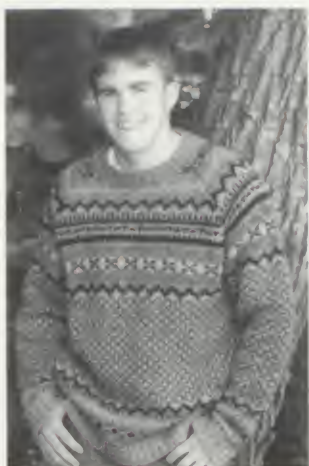

Katherine Gross

"I've always set high goals for myself and I've been challenged to succeed by both my parents and my friends. Great teachers have changed learning from being a chore to being a joy."

Sarah Hinchliff

"Initially my hard work was a direct result of my parents high expectations for me. As I got older I began to appreciate challenges and learning for the purpose of personal growth."

Eric Kintner

"I couldn't have achieved this without the loving support of my family, friends, and teachers. Without their nudges of inspiration, none of what I have become would be possible."

My Le

"I feel smart since I'm in the top 3%, even though many times I feel frustrated. Ten years from now I would like to have a P.H. in genetics. High school has been fun and challenging."

Benjamin Minnis

"I'm in the top 3% simply because I did what I knew I could do. My major goal in life is to continue enjoying myself and help others enjoy themselves."

Amy Petersen

"I am very proud to be recognized in the top 3%. It has come with much hard work but it has definitely paid off in the end."

David Rude

"The class of 1998 is extremely talented. Being in the top 3% is a big honor."

Holly Stilwell

"I'm happy to be included in the top 3%. All the people in this category have patience and determination. I've worked hard these four years, and it's finally paying off."

Tara Taylor

"I'm very proud to be in the top 3% of my class. I hope to keep up my grades in my study of premedicine in college."

Patricia Van Zee

"Being in the top of my class has been a goal of mine ever since freshman year. My future goals are to become certified as an Athletic Trainer."

HELPING THE COMMUNITY

National Honor Society consists of eighty members, which includes the twelve new members just starting this year.

National Honor Society is for juniors and seniors with a grade average of 3.5 or higher. They have to show interests in helping to provide services for the community.

Ms. Marcucci said, "Students do individual service projects in the community-in schools, churches, and community organizations."

First semester students conducted a food drive for the City of Des Moines Holiday Food Project. They have also cleaned Hoover's school grounds.

Senior Tricia Van Zee's most memorable moment was, "when we cleaned up the trash on Hoover's grounds and then Kristin Johnson dumped down more trash."

TESTING THE MIND

This year's Academic Decathlon team pursued team goals and individual aspirations.

Sophomore Cindy Pham said, "I've gained a sense of closeness that can only be found working in a group such as this."

The team lost six seniors adding to the anxiety of the season's expectations. "After losing so many seniors last year, this year has been a challenge, but lots of fun," said sophomore Candy

Hemphill.

The 15 member team was coached by Pam Pilcher and Jerry Leventhal. This year's captains were junior Bill Cone and sophomore Candy Hemphill.

Despite small setbacks, optimism was high. Sophomore Thao Nguyen said, "It's been fun, educational, and I hope we make it to state."

STUDENT LEADERS

Nine Hoover seniors were chosen to be a part of the National Council on Youth Leadership. These students are honored for their leadership and involvement within the community. They were chosen for their involvement in church, school and community activities, grades and their qualities of leadership. Seniors Brenda Bass, Sara Carlson, Eboniece Cason, Rob Clark, Justin Griffis, Amanda Griffith, Amie Hedrick, Eric Kintner, Ben Minnis, Jennifer Throckmorton and Tricia Van Zee were selected for the honor.

In September, the students attended a two-day seminar at Drake University aimed at stimulating today's youth to meet the future demands in the upcoming millennium. The seminar included activities based around encouraging leadership in the community, volunteering, and achieving a person's full potential in life. The seminar also included motivational speakers including former Governor and acting mayor Robert Ray; Drake's Dolph Pulliam; and chairwoman of NCYL, Carole Harder, from the US Olympic team. "The goal is to gather the local youths together and establish better communication skills. It lets those involved know they are doing something right," said Clark.

There was a recognition ceremony held in which each participant received a certificate of recognition. Clark and Minnis were both awarded a scholarship to use towards college expenses from the NCYL. Their pictures, along with the rest of the group, were displayed in various places around town, including Merle Hay Mall and the Ruan Building.

"It is a good experience and looks good on your college application. You also develop good leadership skills," said Cason.

THE FIELD

Many students have become involved in Corporate Academic Institute, or otherwise known as CAI. It provides sophomores, juniors and seniors on-the-job training before they graduate. Students earn one and a half credits each semester to help them meet their high school graduation requirements.

Within the institute, there are two levels. The extern stage is first. Students are required to do major projects and other assignments, such as essays and out-of-school projects.

The second stage is for seniors only. This is the intern level designed specifically for those who have specific educational or professional goals.

EXPANDED LEARNING

Central Campus is a school for students who want a different challenge from classes offered on the main campuses.

Students attend "Central", as it's commonly known, for two to three periods each day. They can choose from a variety of classes, ranging from Marine Biology, child care, commercial arts, and nursing.

What's this?—Sophomore Meredith Jones asks a question about an assignment before class.

Also, they can take languages that aren't offered in high school, such as, Chinese, Japanese, German, and Italian.

Central Academy, which is tied in with "Central", offers advanced placement classes, but to stay in the class you have to maintain an "A" or "B".

"Central" is a great school for students to expand their educations and minds.

THE RIGHT PATH

Career Pathways, part of Hoover's School-to-Work program, with Ms. Kirsten Teeter as its coordinator, proved to be successful this year. At the beginning of the school year, students attended Career Pathway meetings for 10 minutes each week, with a one-hour collaboration day once a month. This was changed at the second semester to Pathway meetings once a month for 30 minutes, to get more done.

On collaboration days, students were able to explore career goals of their choice and experience those careers in various ways. Guest speakers talked about what is required of them on the job. Many times, students were able to have hands-on experiences. Overall, students benefitted from our Career Pathways program. This was evidenced when Kim Jones, a freshman, spoke at the end-of-the-year celebration. She told all present that she had made a decision to be an elementary teacher after she was able to job-shadow at a local elementary school.

MAKING A CHANGE

When you have a problem with the way the school works, do you know where to take it? Did you know that the school has a forum for you to express your concerns. Hoover's Student Council has been making decisions for you all year long.

Student Council is involved in promoting and organizing everything from the Homecoming Assembly, Student of All Seasons, and getting people involved on various committees.

This years cabinet consisted of seniors striving to leave a mark led by Katie Gross(President), David Buckley(Vice-President), Ryan Baldwin(Treasurer), and Brenda Bass(Secretary). This was the first time in many years where seniors have held the cabinet positions all year.

Representatives from each class are to keep their student electors informed on school policies and current events. However, keeping up-to-date at Hoover can be just as complicated as making it to first hour on time.

AFTER THE BELL

Hoover's student-organized clubs continue to grow. The Spanish Club was added to the existing clubs in January. The active clubs now include Students Against Drunk Driving (S.A.D.D.), Intercultural Club (ICP), the Minority Achievement Program (MAP), the National Council on Youth Leadership (NCYL), Gifted and Talented, Computer Club, and the Spanish Club.

Clubs function for a variety of reasons. Some are for improvements at Hoover; others are to help our community; and some clubs are just for fun.

THE SWIM MEETS

This years Timers Club/Yell Leaders were busy during the boys' swim season. The goal of the group was to make sure the home swim meets ran smoothly and to cheer for the swimmers. The group was organized this year by president Lyssa Dusenbery, treasurer Jenny Baumert, and secretary Danae Kinzel. The club is a great way to get involved at Hoover. It's a fun way to support the swimmers and the school. Michelle Kasper said that she enjoyed getting to know the other timers and yellers, and seeing the guys in speedos wasn't too bad either.

MAKING HEADLINES

Everyone knows issues of the Challenger come out every third week. We have all seen people running around with their pads of paper and cameras collecting information for their next story. But no one ever stops to think about how hard these 18 people work to bring the students of Hoover High the latest news.

First they have to think up a story idea, then gather the information. After actually writing the story, the editors check it over for any errors that may have been overlooked. That is about a three to five day process.

"What a great group of students this is; they meet deadlines with grace and ease-and good tempers", said advisor Debbie Keebler.

YEAR

IN REVIEW

The yearbook staff was welcomed this year to many changes. First, they were introduced to their new advisor, Debrah Keebler. While many will miss Ms. Ahrendt, Keebler was immediately accepted within the group.

Another change was the drop in class size, from 23 students to seven. However, this smaller class size proved to be easier in producing Hoover's yearbook. Junior Carrie Witte said, "Having a smaller yearbook staff really helped. We work well together and make the deadlines."

This year's Editors were senior Karen Lueder and junior Michalle Hirsch. Both agreed that the year went very well and that they had a great time working together, learning from one another and sharing ideas as to how to make the book the best it can be.

Senior Tricia Van Zee said, "Yearbook is my favorite class."

PERSUASIVE CONVERSATION

The debate team is made up of a mixture of grade levels and male and females. The team meets during regular school hours and competes at different competitions during the year. There is no varsity or junior varsity teams; rather, the team members are placed according to skill level.

Debate gives students an alternative to speech class. By taking debate, you not only get an opportunity to pass out of tenth grade speech, but you also gain experience in rationalizing with other competitors and speaking your mind in an intelligent manner. The debate team is instructed by Kirk Johnson.

GOLDEN STRINGS

The Hoover orchestra, led by Derek Claussen, has had a busy year. They held three formal concerts, as well as participated in several festivals. They went to Mason City to participate in the CIML Orchestra Festival and competed at State in small and large-group festivals. In addition to all their travels, they also had a good time performing for the little ones at Monroe and Woodlawn Elementary Schools right here in Des Moines.

Orchestra teacher and director Claussen was enthusiastic about this year's group, saying, "This has been a year of exponential growth. I have asked the students to play more and more difficult pieces, and they have responded by playing better and better."

EVENING ENTERTAINMENT

The well-kept secret of Herbie's Hideaway went public this year, moving the popular program downtown to the well known coffee shop, Java Joe's. Moving Herbie's to Java's increased numbers in both attendance and performance.

Hoover Harmony was an automatic at each Herbie's, along with instrumental jazz, and hilarious MCing by the likes of Ben Minnis and Eric Sharp.

So even though Herbie's Hideaway was no longer hidden, it was all the better for everyone involved. HHS students got to perform in public, and the public got a taste of Hoover. As Harmony sings, "I like the java jive and it loves me."

FLAGS

This year's Hoover Flag Corps consisted of thirteen young ladies that worked hard for a one rating at State Marching Contest. Led under the direction of captain Angela Sampson and assistant captains, Lyssa Dusenbery and Jennifer Howe, the flag corps performed at the Beaverdale Parade, Valleyfest Marching Contest, State Marching Contest, all the home football games, and at the Homecoming Assembly. A lot of hard work goes into having a successful season. The captains made up the routines, and the group practiced at 7 A.M. every weekday morning. Angela Sampson commented on the group's unity. "This group really stuck together through all the rough times."

MARCHING ALONG

The marching band experienced larger numbers and a new director at the start of the year. Rick Stendel replaced Pat Kearney this year as Director of Bands. While Kearney will be missed, Stendel said, "I felt the band worked well to adapt to a new director in a short time."

The band had many peers to look up to as their leaders. Drum majors this year were seniors Jason Danielson and Mike Mefford. Section leaders included juniors Olivia Roth, Brent Thornburg, Mark Dante and seniors Tricia Van Zee, Andrew Farley, Lisa Simpson, Spencer McGinnis and Nate Curl.

The band kept very active during the season participating in all of the home football games, Valleyfest and State Marching Band Contests, the Beaverdale Parade and in the pep rallies. At the contests, the band received high Division II ratings. "Though the Division I rating remained an unmet goal, the band continued and will continue to refine the marching execution skills," said Stendel.

THE BAND PLAYS ON

The concert band was greeted with a new face this year, instructor Richard Stendel. Though his position was filled late in the summer, he was pleased with the response and productivity of his students.

"The students responded to every hurdle and every challenge put before them this year. Arriving in this position so late in the summer could have been disastrous; but, instead, we all worked together to make the year's musical accomplishments stand out."

An exciting note on the season was the trip the band took in April to Orlando, Florida, where the band was critiqued by a Central Florida University staff member. While they were there, they performed a concert for an audience at Disney World.

The band has received many accolades for their performances. Most notably was their Division I rating at the State Large Group Festival and their II+ rating from a panel of collegiate judges at the Drake/ Adventureland Festival.

HONORED TALENT

Twenty-nine talented musicians put their music abilities to the test when they auditioned for All-State. Hoover had eight instrumentalists and twenty-two singers try out for this honor. This year, nine vocalists made the All-State choir, making this the largest amount of students from Hoover that made All-State in a decade. These musicians were sophomores Josh Dreyer and Katie Gay, juniors Ben Talcott and Brent Thornburg, and seniors Ann Marie Hansen, Angela Steward, My Le and Mike Shulz, who made the All-State choir for the second year in a row. Senior Jason Danielson was selected as the piano accompanist for the choir. Other honors included senior Nate Curl and junior Mark Dante being recalled for a second audition.

Rick Stendel, Hoover's director of bands, said, "Preparing for All-State as an instrumentalist is a very self-disciplined and solitary experience."

Linda Vanderpool, Hoover's director of choirs, said, "Hoover's finest musicians were recognized for their talent."

JAZZ'N THROUGH THE YEAR

Hoover's Jazz Band performed with high expectations throughout the school year. With new director, Rick Stendel, the band set high goals early first semester.

Their goals included qualifying for State Jazz Championships and placing in the top five. The band accomplished both goals by qualifying for State in December and placing fourth in April.

The band performed at Hoover on Nov. 18, March 7, and May 10. However, they shared their talent with more than the school's community.

In November, the band performed as guests in the Fall concert at SWCC. On Nov. 19, they played for the Iowa School Board Association Convention. In December, Hoover's Jazz Band participated in the SCIBA Jazz Festival at Johnston Middle School (placed 2nd). In January, they traveled to Newton for State Contest where they received a "division I". On Feb. 21, the band was in Creston performing at the SWCC Jazz Festival. On March 14, they traveled to Charles City where they placed 2nd at another jazz festival. On April 9, Hoover's Jazz Band placed 4th at the Iowa Jazz Championship competition held in Des Moines' Civic Center.

Congratulations to the following students who have been recognized as "outstanding soloists" this year at various festivals: Jason Danielson, Mike Schulz, Nick Thompson, and Ramon Nieves.

The following students were honored by their selection into the Community Jazz Center/Drake University Honor Jazz Bands: Senior Jazz Band- Jason Danielson, Mikel Morris, Spencer McGinnis; Junior Jazz Band- Mark Dante, Ramon Nieves, Brent Thornburg; Sophomore Jazz Band- Nick Thompson; Freshman Jazz Band- Brad Miller, and Adam Heathcote.

Hoover's Jazz Band proved their excellence throughout the season. Jason Danielson sums up the year saying they showed a "higher level of music making...not so much competition."

NOTING

THE TUNE

This year's prep choir is nearly 60 in number and is mostly composed of ninth graders. Director Linda Vanderpool calls them a "building group."

"Since we are at the ninth grade level, we have been learning to become more advanced," said freshman Amanda Bethards.

The choir's most memorable performance this year was the May 12th concert because of their great progress this year according to Vanderpool.

"It was really good, and we took what we learned in class and made it look really good in the final concert," said freshman choir member Christina Smajd.

MELODY AND HARMONY

Hoover's concert choir had once again outdone themselves with powerful performances and strong soloists throughout the year. The group's size has increased since last year; there are 83 members this year.

The concert choir spent most of the year in a variety of performances. They sang at the CIML Festival in November, at the State Legislature in February, the Dorian Festival at Luther College in April, Large Group Contest in May and their final performance was at Hoover's commencement in May. Their three home concerts in Hoover's auditorium were in November, February and May.

"This is the finest choir Hoover has ever had. I am tremendously proud of their achievements and it is a joy to work with them," says director Linda Vanderpool.

VOCAL JAZZ AROUND THE STATE

Having high hopes, Mrs. Linda Vanderpool lead the pack around the state. With a busy schedule, Harmony maintained excellence through the year.

In January, eight members of Harmony attended All State in Newton. Mrs. Vanderpool says Hoover "continues to lead Des Moines and Iowa in Vocal Jazz" by traveling to various festivals such as Morningside, Kirkwood, and South West Community College (SWCC). Harmony received a "one" in Sioux City at the Morningside Jazz Festival on February 14. They also received a "one" at Kirkwood. Outstanding soloists were Ben Talcott, Angela Steward, Jason Danielson, Spencer McGinnis, and Nick Thompson. At SWCC, Ben Talcott was an outstanding soloist and was given $200. Harmony performed several times at Java Joe's throughout the year. The group also performed at the Masterworks Concert in February. The year ended with concerts on May 21 and 22.

Harmony succeeded in sharing their talents around the state.

MAKING

SOME LAUGHS

This year the cast of Commedia XI, titled Beaverdale Smackme, tried a different approach to the show. They wanted to try a show that was evolved around one, set theme.

The cast took the play called the Podegis snob, by Moliere and modernized it. They wrote the play up to date and added jokes that people in Des Moines could understand.

Senior Ann Marie Hansen said, "The subtle changes in the show made it a lot more fun and interesting."

All in all the show was a huge success! The changes gave the show a fresh start and the audience a new outlook.

F AITHFUL ENTERTAINERS

The Imani Players, whose name means 'faith' in Swahili, have been busy this year. With 16 members and two branches of the group, they didn't run out of things to do. The members show an interest in African American playwrights and are usually from Mrs. Spicer's African American studies classes.

The group is made up of the Imani Players and the Imani Gospel Singers. Both groups meet once a week to rehearse for upcoming performances.

This year's shows included a play here at Hoover, a show at the Botanical Center, performances at several area churches, and an outreach sponsored by State Farm Insurance to teach middle school students. The group also performed at a city-wide Martin Luther King Jr. Day celebration and were featured in the Des Moines Register.

So whether it's performing on the Hoover stage, or wowing the community with their efforts, faith is what it's all about.

THE NUTCRACKER

This year's winter play, The Nutcracker, was a huge success. There were 540 people at the last show. It was the largest amount of people that had come to a school play, at least in the last five years.

The Nutcracker turned out to be a very good show. Senior Ann Marie Hansen was Clara, one of the main characters. She showed off her great ability of dancing that she has acquired over a period of 11 years. Senior Ben Minnis was a great addition to this year's play, he played Drosselmeyer, and a lot of other characters. He did an excellent job of dancing with no prior experience. There were also a lot of other people who put a lot of great effort into the play, which led to the success of this great show!

PLAYS

TIMES THREE

This year's spring was really busy for the Hoover students involved in Drama. Mr. Hildreth decided to put on three plays instead of just one. The plays performed were The Great Cross Country Race, 12 Angry Jurors, and Electra.

The Great Cross Country Race was a play meant for children, but everyone who went enjoyed it. It was a great success, and all of the kids that went really enjoyed it because the costumes worn were great.

12 Angry Jurors is about a boy that is having his fate decided by twelve jurors. The great part about this play was the atmosphere; the play was held in the school's cafeteria.

Electra was the largest of the three plays. It was a story about the ongoing Greek Tragedy involving one of the more popular characters Antigone. The best part about this play was where it was held. Mr. Hildreth wanted the authentic look for the Greek play; so they held the performance outside at the football stadium, which made it a lot of fun to see. It was a really creative idea!

PLAYING

THE PART

The halls and auditorium of Hoover were once again filled with some of Hoover's most talented actors and actresses. Hoover was host to one of three competitions on the contest that takes place on three Saturdays in January and February.

Students practiced two hours a day, five days a week for 4 to 5 weeks to prepare for the contest. Participation was voluntary, but drama students did earn course credit.

Instructor, Denis Hildreth, said the contest purpose is to "perfect student's skills in eight different forms of drama performance."

The outstanding Hoover students who went on to All-State were Ben Minnis, Eric Sharp, Holly Bartlett, Olivia Roth, Natalie Smith, Alissa Knoell, Megan Boesen, Emily Boatwright, Tracy Cochran, and Candy Hemphill.

According to Hildreth, these students "won big time."

LENDING A HAND

Peer Helpers is an organized group at Hoover that does various projects during the year. Students need to be in grades ten to twelve to be involved in Peer Helpers. This group of students help by welcoming new student, lending a hand at parent-teacher conferences, and Rock and Prevention.

Rock and Prevention is lead by Pat McManus. The students visit elementary schools and share their experiences with drugs and alcohol. They use music to get through to the children. McManus believes that by middle school it is too late to reach students about drugs.

Peer Helpers would also help other students that have trouble with class.

SOLVING PROBLEMS

Conflict Managers is a program set up to help students who have a problem with another student. It gives the troubled students a way to solve their problems without involving the administration. Conflict Managers are good listeners, trustworthy people; and they are able to keep calm.

Working it out—Seniors Katie Gross and Maggie Beavers discuss some of the issues concerning students at Hoover while munching on cookies and milk at a conflict manager meeting.

Aside from solving student problems, this same group of students are also the student forum. They represent both genders and all culture groups at Hoover.

The student forum meets once a month with Bill McCollaugh, Dick Doughan, and Diane Chadwick to discuss student life, activities, and issues at Hoover.

"These are my top-notch students. I go to them when I want to know what students think about a certain issue or policy," said McCollaugh.

CLASSIFIED

BEHAVIOR

Far, far away in that isolated Hoover hallway, dwell the spirits of the military bound. Fondly called ROTC(rah-t-zee)by all the unknowing outsiders,it is one of Hoover's largest outreach programs. Students from 10 schools including Ankeny, Waukee, and SE Polkparticipate in a variety of activiites associated with the JROTC program.

Some special activities for '97-'98 included an annual canoe trip, two blood drives, and color guard support at track meets and football games. The program maintained its active involvement in the community by taking part in Operation Santa Claus,Combat Hunger, the Special Olympics, and raising $1100 for the MDA Jerry Lewis Telethon, to name a few.

This year, Hoover's outstanding officers were senior Cadet Commander Andrew Roland, who received a 4 year, $64,000 engineering scholarship, and Cadet Executive Officer Robert Cinnamon, who also received a scholarship. They prove you really can be all that you can be. . . in ROTC.

President Bill Clinton was the first Democratic president in 60 years to be elected to a second term. As a centrist New Democrat, he transformed his once beleaguered party. Under his presidency, the United States enjoyed the lowest rate of inflation since the early 1960's, and he was the first president in 17 years to submit a balanced budget to Congress. His vice president, Al Gore, was considered very powerful and was the president's closest advisor. A year after their re-election, both men were under close scrutiny for campaign finance violations.

President- Bill Clinton, midway through his second term, finds himself in the spotlight under sudden allegations of obstruction of justice.

Peace- Yasser Arafat was chairman of the Palestine Liberation Organization and the president of the Palestinian National Authority. He assumed leadership of Arabs within Israel's occupied territories. He played a very important role in keeping peace in the Middle East.

Mir— The module has been orbiting Earth for nearly 12 years, which is seven years longer than planned. The joint U.S.-Russian missions are the first phase of a program to build an International Space Station. This station is scheduled to be in orbit by the year 2002.

Mother Teresa— She was among the most well-known and highly respected women in the world in the later half of the Twentieth Century. In 1948, she founded a religious order of Roman Catholic nuns in Calutta, India, called the Missionaries of Charity. Through this order, she dedicated her life to helping the poor, the sick, and the dying around the world. Her selfless work with the needy brought her much acclaim and many awards, including the Nobel Peace Prize in 1979. She died at the age of 87 on September 5, 1997 of heart failure at her convent in Calcutta.

John Denver— His optimistic songs catapulted him to fame during the 1970's. He had eight platinum records to his credit when his homebuilt plane crashed into Monterey Bay California on October 12, 1997.

Princess Diana— Britain and the world bid farewell to Diana, Princess of Wales, on a sparkling September morning with a grand tribute in pageantry. Since her death in a car crash in Paris a week before, the country had witnessed an astonishing outpouring of grief. Her sons, William, 15, and Harry, 12, stood in attendance, joined by their father, Prince Charles, and her brother, Earl Spencer, as the body was taken into Westminster Abbey. Millions packed the city for the funeral of Diana. It was a crowd unmatched since the end of World War II. More than a million bouquets by official count were stacked outside the royal palaces.

MUSICAL

Spice Girls—They have jumped into superstardom, grabbing the adoration that comes with overnight worldwide fame. With only one album to their name, they took the world by storm with their saucy antics and innumerable shouts of "Girl Power."

Hanson—By being young, cute, blonde and happy the brothers, Isaac (16), Taylor (14), and Zac (11), became the newest kids on the pop charts. The bands infectious single "MMMBop" flooded the airwaves around the world.

What's hot in 1998

This year's fads were forever changing, as they are every year. They differ based on the likes and dislikes of individuals, but some are seen all over the place. For the majority of girls, this year's trends were flare leg jeans and body piercing. Guys leaned more towards shorter hair and tattoos. The top movies in the box office were either action /adventure or epic love stories. Also simple, but healthy, bottles of water seemed to be everywhere.

Titanic— Kate Winslet and Leonardo DiCaprio star in this heart wrenching epic love story. It cost 2 million dollars to produce and has become the highest grossing film of all time. It won Best Film at the Academy Awards.

Paula Cole

The 11 songs on This Fire, Paula Cole's top-selling album, overflow with personal emotions and autobiographical details. As one critic said: "This Fire announces the arrival of a writer, singer, and musician of exceptional talent and power."

Dave Matthews Band

They have demonstrated over the course of three albums and several years of extensive touring that it has staying power on the record charts. Combining elements of rock, jazz, funk, folk, and world beat, the group is soulful and subtle in its harmonies.

World Series

The Florida Marlins were major league baseball's world champions in 1997, beating the Cleveland Indians in the World Series. The Marlins tied the Indians in the 9th inning of the 7th game and went on to win it all in the 11th inning with a score of 3-2.

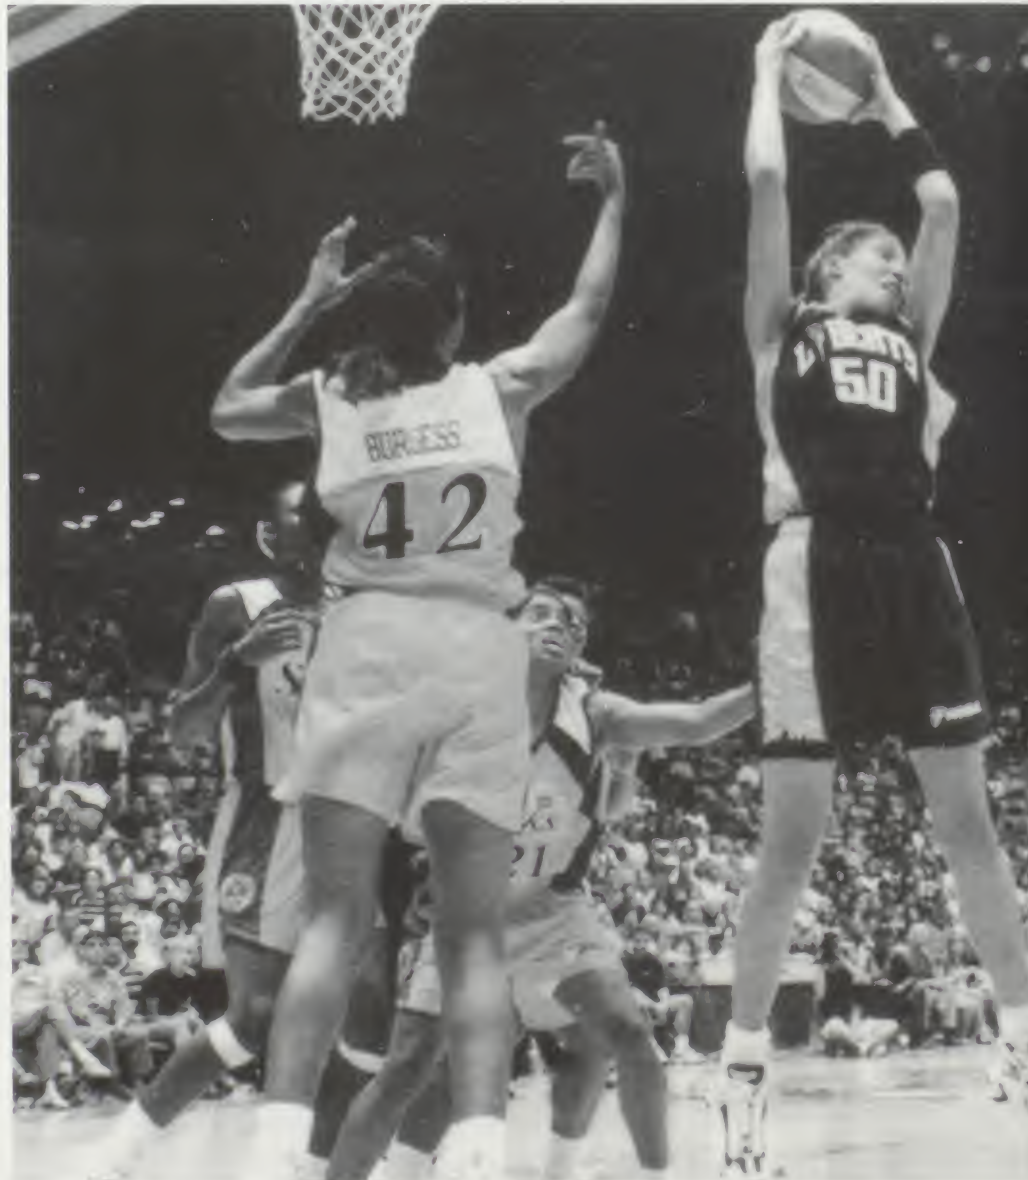

Super Bowl XXXII

In one of the most competitive games in Super Bowl history, John Elway and Terrell Davis led the Denver Broncos to a 31-24 upset of the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl XXXII. The Bronco's first National Football League championship ended the American conference's 13-year losing streak in the Super Bowl.

WNBA

The WNBA--Women's National Basketball Association--completed its inaugural season with the Houston Comets defeating the New York Liberty for the championship. As the season came to a close, the WNBA announced that the eight-team league would grow to 10 teams in 1998.

Tim McGraw

His last two albums--Not a Moment Too Soon and All I Want--sold a combined 7 million copies. In the two years since All I Want hit the charts, McGraw became a millionaire, married, had a daughter, and gained respect as a producer.

Phish-Trey Anastasio

The group has established an impressive reputation of tireless touring, dazzling improvisation and innovative rock and roll. One of their claims to fame was to have the ice cream mavens Ben & Jerry honor the group with its own flavor--Phish Food.

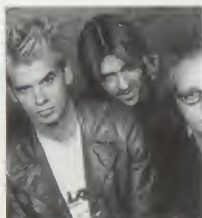

Unique styles

Duncan Sheik

He is an artist for which there are no easy comparisons. As one critic put it: "He carefully introduces a variety of other musical instruments to create a musical environment that defies categorization."

Verve Pipe

They're an incredible rock/pop/alternative band from East Lansing, Michigan. Their songs contain a great variety of songs, and they have inadvertently carved their own niche in the music world.

Musical Diversity

Music gives songwriters a chance to express themselves and show their individual styles.

People now-a-days are attracted to things that aren't like everything else. Songwriters follow this trend also. They have begun to address controversial issues in their songs, as well as trying out new ways to incorporate the use of different instruments into their music. Artists have branched out from the traditional ways of making music and many have made whole new styles. Individuality is just as important in the music business as it is in any other. There are all sorts of people out there who don't all like the same thing, and the artists are there to please themselves as well as the fans.

Shawn Colvin

Shawn Colvin is a great folk-pop songwriter. She sings immaculately conceived melodies and writes about tricky matters of the head and the heart. Colvin's debut more than 10 years ago won her a Grammy with "Steady On." But her new single "Sunny Came Home" is a bona-fide hit. It was in the top 20 of September's most popular singles. Her latest and best album, A Few Small Repairs, was a mega-seller and stayed on the charts for more than a year.

PLAYING FOR PRIDE

The Hoover Huskies still had a lot of things up in the air at the start of the '97 season. The Huskies had only seven players returning from last year's team with only two starters, so they would have to rely pretty heavily on the junior class.

The Huskies did have a few bright spots for a season in which they finished with a 1-8 record overall and a 1-6 record in conference play.

The Husky offense was led by Bo Leonard, who lead the Huskies in receiving yards with 555 and touchdown receptions with five. Bo also had four field goals with his longest being 43 yards and was a second team all-conference receiver. The Husky defense was lead by senior captains Justin Song and Chris Moore, who were also both second team all-conference players. Justin, a linebacker, lead the team in tackles and fumble recoveries with five. Chris Moore, a defensive tackle, was second in tackles.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

BY C.J. FRAZIER

A NEW BEGINNING

The Hoover Huskies freshman football team started off the '97 season with a new coaching staff and a revamped offense. The entire team, as well as new coaching staff, endeavored to make this a good year, as well as looked on to the future of Hoover football, as many aspire to play varsity in the next couple of years; and it looks like several of them have this awesome potential.

However, it's one thing to have to get used to a new team; and it's an even tougher task when the coaching staff is new and has to get used to each other, a new location, as well as a new and aspiring team.

They all worked hard to make this a memorable season. The rookie coaching staff lead by Coach Kuhn was ready to begin shaping the future of Husky football.

The freshman squad was lead by the running trio of Thomaz Brown, Jeff Spencer, and Cameron Hawkins, who almost single handedly carried the offensive load.

The freshman team put together a pretty good season from start to finish, and they will be a team to watch in years to come.

HARDWORK AND DEDICATION

The sophomore team finished the season with a record of 0-9, but their record did not show their hard work and and dedication throughout the season.

The Huskies were plagued with low numbers for the second time in three years with only 15 players at season's end. Sophomore Justin Lamar said, "It was a tough season playing with only 15-20 each game, but I think it really showed us who wanted to play football and who didn't."

TEAMWORK PAYS OFF

This year's Varsity Volleyball team was led by a strong group of seniors. Their teamwork and cooperation led them to an 8-22 finish with a win over North High School and state honors achieved by individual players. Maggie Beavers was named 1st Team All State. Amber Wessing, Sarah Hinchliff, Joelle Coons, Jenny Baumert, and Karen Lueder were awarded Honorable Mention.

"I had a really fun time in volleyball this year. I really felt like this was the closest team in all four years. We all bonded, and being close helped us play together very well. Our last game against Marshalltown showed how good we really were. I'm going to miss these girls," said co-captain Maggie Beavers.

"This year we have achieved more than any other team I have been a part of," said co-captain Karen Lueder.

HAVING FUN

The junior varsity volleyball team consisted of nine players. Most of them were also on the freshmen or sophomore teams. With only nine players, it made it more of a challenge; but they accepted it and worked together as a team to beat their opponents.

"We had fun this year. We had a young team, but we did a lot of good things and surprised a lot of people. These girls have promising futures," said senior Sara Carlson. "The season started out a little rough, but by the end, we played more as a team. Overall, it was a pretty good season," said Meredith Jones.

JOINING TOGETHER

Low numbers of participants plagued the sophomore volleyball team during the 1997-98 season. The freshmen and sophomore teams came together and played as one.

As for the strengths of the joint team, serving was very strong and the athletic ability was promising according to the coach, Deb Isenhardt.

"If our sophomores are not brought up to the varsity level, we should have a very strong team next year," said Isenhardt.

The outlook for next year is a positive one according to the coach.

"We continued to improve throughout the year and we'll be a strong team next year."

R UNNING STRONG

The 1997 Girls' Cross Country team was really strong this year. Made up of three seniors, eleven juniors, four sophomores, and two freshmen, the power was with the upper-classmen.

"This year, we proved how good Hoover could be. We went out and really rocked the courses. I'm really proud of everyone," said head coach Bob Jankovitz.

The season consisted of nine regular invitationals, Conference, District, and State.

The highlight of the season was when the team won the Johnston meet. It was the middle of open house when the bus got back to Hoover. The team celebrated by running through the halls of Hoover, screaming at the top of their lungs.

The girls did well placing second at the City Series.

"I'm looking forward to next year; we should rock," said Jankovitz.

NEW FEET

The 1997 Boys' Cross Country team was made up of new and young runners. There were only three returning runners and half of the varsity runners from last year graduated. The team had really big shoes to fill.

"We had to work hard this year since it was almost like starting over. The team was really young without much experience," said head coach Ron Peterson.

The season consisted of eight regular invitionals, Conference, and District. The team placed fifth in the Augustine meet. They also placed seventh at their own Hoover Invitational.

"I'm looking forward to next year. The team should be much stronger after the winter run across Iowa program," said Peterson.

MARLIN

SPIRIT

This year the Hoover Marlins finished the swimming season with a 1-7 record. The team has done a lot of improving in the last year. "Out of 21 swimmers the team was mostly seniors," senior Tricia Van Zee said. The swimmers took a great effort to make the swim team as strong as possible.

Tim Brown, the girl's swimming coach, stressed a family atmosphere. He wanted the swimmers to be like sisters. By the end of the season, they pretty much were.

They also had a program called Little Sister/Big Sister. If the little sisters had any problems, the big sister would help them in any way they could.

Of all their great achievements, the biggest was making it to state.

The girl's swim team was a great experience, one they'll remember for a long time.

LEADING THE PACK

The 1997-98 Boys' Swim Team had a successful season. They were led by twelve seniors. The record was five and two, with their only losses to Dowling and Roosevelt.

The team tied for second place in the American Conference. At the District meet, they placed fourth. Senior Colin Johnson qualified for State in the 100 breaststroke and junior Kevin Kozitza qualified in the 50 freestyle. All three relays went to State.

The 200 medley relay consisted of junior Mark Dante, Johnson, senior Tuffy Jackson, and Kozitza. On the 400 free relay were seniors Bryce Jones and David Nadler, Kozitza, and Jackson.

The 200 free relay broke the school record at State with a 1:29.76. The members were seniors Tuffy Jackson and David Nadler, junior Kevin Kozitza, and freshman Mike Thorsen.

THEY GOT GAME

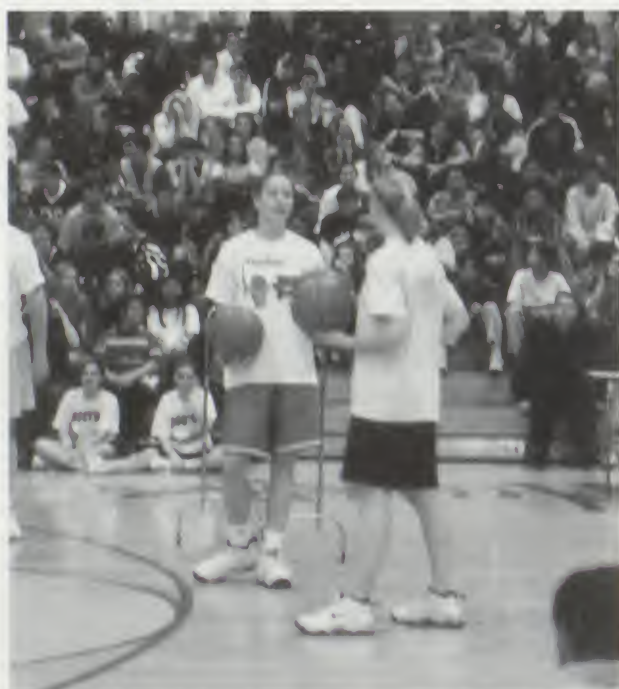

The Hoover Husky Girls' Varsity Basketball team finished the regular season with an overall record of 11-8 and a record of 9-5 in conference play. The Huskies finished third in the American conference which was their best finish in recent years.

The Huskies were led by a wonderful group of six seniors, which consisted of: Amy Petersen, Maggie Beavers, Anne Lawrie, Tara Taylor, Sarah Hinchliff, and Katie Gross. Amy Petersen led the Husky attack with 13 points per game, while sidekick Maggie Beavers averaged 9 points per game.

The Huskies finished the regular season strong by winning six of their last seven games.

After an excellent season, the girls were unfortunately beat in substate on a last-second prayer by Johnston.

The girls have a strong nucleus returning and should battle for the conference title next season.

BEST EVER

The Hoover Huskies boys' basketball team finished the regular season with an untainted record of 19-0 and an American Conference Championship. The Huskies were lead by seniors T.J. Welton, who averaged 21 points and 7 rebounds, and David Newman who averaged 17 points and 8 assists per game. Not to be over shadowed was the outstanding play of seniors Brian Foster and David Rude and junior Greg Danielson, who averaged ten points, eight rebounds and three blocked shots per game.

The Huskies went into the playoffs as the number one team in the state, and breezed right through into the championship game against Iowa City West. The game was close but, unfortunately, was lost by the Huskies on a freethrow with no time left.

Coach Bobby Sandquist and the varsity basketball team put together a heck of a season and will always be remembered as the BEST EVER!

BUILDING STRENGTH

The Girls' Sophomore Basketball team was small this year. Many of the freshmen players had to step up and play. Even with the small numbers the team was able to have a record of five and fourteen.

Their first win came against Ames on December 2. It was a close game. Hoover won by three points.

The girls were also proud of their victory over Indianola the second time. They lost the first time.

IT UP

The sophomore basketball team, under the direction of head coach Haywood Boston, finished the '97 season with an overall record of 13-6. "All in all I think we put together a pretty good season. We could have easily gone 16-3 and maybe even 17-2, but we had some unfortunate injuries and got some bad breaks," said point guard Jermiah May.

Assistant coach John Nelson said, "This year's team had a lot of talent and heart, and I look forward to watching them at the varsity level in the next couple of years."

STARTING OVER

The Girls' Freshmen Basketball team had a very successful season. Since the sophomore team was very small many of the girls got extra playing time during the sophomore games. Even while balancing the two schedules the girls managed to have a record of seven and seven.

The first game of the season was against East. It was an easy victory for the girls as they won by a score of more than thirty points. Some of the freshmen even suited varsity.

HERE I AM

The Husky Wrestling team had a building season this year. They had only two seniors and four returning letter winners to lead the team. The team's top wrestlers and co-captains were junior Brandon Bracelin and senior Justin Song.

The young team was highlighted by freshmen Jeremy Materson and B.C. Riordan.

The small numbers hurt the team's overall record, but individuals posted many wins. Song, Bracelin, and Masterson all received third place at the District Meet, and Song was one match away from State for the second year in a row.

Other mentionables include freshman Brian Hiskey, who had a commendable showing in the heavyweight division; juniors Jerry Brantley and Eric Nichols, whose futures look promising; and senior Kyle "Superman" Pritchard, who was a crowd and cheerleader favorite.

The 1997-98 boys' golf team finished the season with a conference record of 4-3, and an overall record of 9-4. The boys finished second in the conference, and fourth in dual meets.

Coach Steve Lundholm pointed out that they struggled against some very good teams early in the season but ended up with some big wins. The team has a very positive outlook for next year.

"We have eight returning letter winners coming back with 20 other young men who competed on the team, so the groundwork has been started; but we will miss this year's seniors," said Lundholm.

WINGED FEET

The 1998 Girls' Track team had a successful season. The relays were some of the best in the state. As the Hoover team visited each school, they usually left some meet records behind.

"We were kind of a middle of the pack team. There were three or four strong units that we tried to build the team around. I have enjoyed coaching the girls' track team," said Coach Jankovitz.

At the Husky Invitational, there were four new meet records set. Stephanie Mann ran a 2:22.12 in the 800 yards. The 4 X 200 consisted of Christy Meade, Maggie Beavers, Tonya Halstead, and Tara Taylor. They set a record with a 1:52.84.

The 4 X 400 is Meade, Beavers, Taylor, and Mann. They ran a 4:12.12. The sprint medley consists of Halstead, Meade, Taylor and Mann. They ran a 4:20.75.

BREAKING THE RIBBON

The 1997-98 boys' track team had a large number of upperclassmen returning who brought hard work, dedication, and know-how to the team. They made it through some grueling practices which all payed off in the end when they were able to take home some first place titles.

The 4x100 meter relay team, made up of sophomore Paul Scott, and juniors Maurice Jackson, Tony Quinn, and Andre Mitchell, took first place at the Drake Relays. The teams' 4x400 relay team, made up of seniors Brian Foster, Tuffy Jackson, junior Andre Mitchell, and sophomore Stanley Patton, also captured first with a time of 3:19.4.

The team was coached by Ron Peterson, who was very proud of their performances this season.

"They worked hard in practice and in the end it was all worth it. I'm proud of them," said Peterson.

RACKING UP SOME WINS

This year Hoover girl's tennis team has done a lot of improving. The team consists of 36 players. They gained 10 or more players and lost only a few varsity players from last year. Within the top ten players this year only two are juniors, the rest consists of seniors.

Underclassmen make up the largest part of the J.V. portion of the team. Coach Card said, "Next year will be our biggest rebuilding year in a long time."

Senior and top varsity player Joelle Coons said a few good words about the team, "I think the team is trying harder and past years not a lot of people cared." She also said she had a lot of fun and would miss the team.

This year the team closed the season with more wins then they have had in at least five years, which shows the great effort the team put forth.

SUMMER

SCORING

This is only the second year for girls' soccer to be sanctioned by the State of Iowa. This is the first year girls' soccer will hold a state tournament. "I'm glad I'll have the chance, as a senior, to possibly go to the first state tournament," said Brenda Bass.

Hoover's captain is keeper Jennifer Howe; and co-captain is junior Emily Neve, defense.

"Playing for Hoover is a lot of fun. We struggled at the beginning, but we have grown together as a team and improved a lot," said Neve.

Junior Carrie Witte salutes her two senior teammates, "I don't know how we'll manage to play next year without 'Jen-Jenn' and Brenda."

HOT SHOTS

The 1998 Boys' Soccer Team had a successful season. They were led by five seniors and seven juniors. The conference record was five and two, with their only losses to Dowling and Southeast Polk.

Hoover was second in the conference. Their overall record was ten and eight.

The Boys' Soccer Team was very proud of their victories over East and Roosevelt. They beat East three to two and Roosevelt two to one.

The leading scorer for the Huskies was junior Kevin Kozitza and the keeper was junior Adam Johnson.

"This season the Hoover soccer program achieved a long sought after goal. They beat Roosevelt two to one in conference play. That is something that I will remember until the day that I hang up my cleats," said Head Coach Pat Kozitza.

HIGH EXPECTATIONS

Indianola, Valley and Dowling barely squeaked by the Huskies, each only winning by one run. The girls came back strong by sweeping the Urbandale Invit., winning all 6 games.

"We came out strong with the right mental attitudes and were able to play hard and have fun," said senior captain Anne Lawrie.

They have high expectations of themselves and have set high goals.

"We have the talent it takes to get to state and we expect to be conference champions this year," said senior captain Katie Gross.

STRONG ARMS

The 1998 Girls' JV and Freshmen Softball Team had a successful season. They were a large team with many freshmen. The eighth-graders could play for the team once school was out for summer.

Most of the freshmen had played together for North Des Moines and knew how to work together. Some of the girls got to play on varsity and gain experience.

The girls look forward to next year so that they can play on varsity.

The Varsity Baseball team finished last season one game away from state and look to make it to state this season. The team is returning some very important players from last year's team, including power hitters Derek Wilcox and Tony Quinn and pitchers Matt Woods and Adam Crabb.

BOYS OF THE BASEPATH

The Freshmen and Sophomore baseball teams have both gotten off to slow starts this season. The freshmen team has only played one game of it's scheduled three due to rain outs, and the sophomore team is 0-6 after facing some tough competition.

"It's starting off slow; hopefully it'll turn around. We have the talent, we just need to put it all together," said freshman Tom Hanlon.

Both freshmen coach Matt Carter and sophomore coach Scott Noah are returning from last year.

"We have worked with these kids before and we know what their capabilities are; we are confident that we can still have a winning record for the season," said Carter.

GREEN AND GOLD PRIDE

The 97-98 football cheer squad, led by captains Abbey Williams and Ann Marie Hansen, kept active during their season. From entertaining the students at pep rallies to supporting our football team at the games, the twelve girls formed a whole new life.

Homecoming proved memorable for all of the girls. They sold paw print tatoos to the student body during the week. "The best part of Homecoming week had to be Thursday night's t.p.ing escapades," said junior Kristin Sokugawa. Friday night they rode in the car rally, returning to the Hoover parking lot to cheer on the football team during the Homecoming game.

Overall, the season went well. Captain Abbey Williams said, "It was my best year ever; I was with my good friends and we all had a great time."

Senior Kourtney Horner added, "We had good gag attacks."

LEADING THE CROWD

The basketball cheer squad, led by captains Tonya Halstead and Kristen Gibson, promoted school spirit and good sportmanship for Hoover sports and activities.

The squad had 3 performances, plus pep assemblies, and all the basketball games. In December, the squad danced to "Santa Claus is Coming to Town". In January, they performed with third through eighth grade students from the northwest community. Their final performance was at the Winter Assembly where they danced to "Wiggle Wiggle".

The squad focused on stunts this year. Ms. Stetson commented that the squad did full twists this season, and she was very proud of their accomplishment.

The squad held a breakfast, decorated lockers, and made fire-ups for the basketball teams before their district games.

HUSKY VOICES

After an extensive try-out in March of '97, the freshmen and sophomore cheerleaders for the 1997-1998 school year were chosen and set to work early, with a fundraiser and three-day clinic taking place in May.

Practices started during summer vacation and continued on Mondays and Wednesdays at the start of the school year. All their hard work was put to show early as the football games started the first week.

Homecoming was the highlight of the season. The squads participated in the Homecoming assembly, car rally and the big Homecoming game. By the end of the year, the squads acquired strength and profiled skills.

SHOUTS

OF SPIRIT

The sophomore and freshmen cheerleaders kept active within the school and their squads during the basketball season. They participated in pep rallies, Husky pups, making posters for the student center and cheering at the games.

The sophomore squad had a new change to adapt to when they had to split into two separate squads. Nicole Ertmann, captain of the sophomore cheer squad, said, "It was challenging at first, but we worked everything out. Being captain is a tough responsibility and people don't realize that."

ENTHUSIASM ON THE MAT

The wrestling cheerleaders had a very busy season. Practices took place every Monday and Wednesday with the basketball cheer squads, but "we never stayed on task," says captain Jennifer Howe.

The cheerleaders met before every meet to eat dinner together. Other memorable moments included bus rides and reading magazines with lighters. The squad participated in the pep assemblies, helped with Husky Pups and cheered at all of the wrestling meets; but, to sum up the season, the responsibility of the squad was "to cheer on the guys," said Howe.

When asked how the season went all together, Howe said, "We all were real close. From making up new cheers (Let's Go Marty) to entertaining the crowd before the meets start (dancing at East), we had a blast!"

The Hoover Drill Team was led by captain sophomore Daniele Edmond, co-captains sophomore Kari Messerschmidt and senior Yecenia Aguayo and team leaders sophomore Tierra Gunn and junior Liberty Dunn. The fourteen member squad had practices every Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 6-7:15am.

The drill team participated in many competitions and had many performances. Some of these were the Individual Competition in Marshalltown, Group Competition at Vets, Red Ribbon Parade, Beaverdale Festival, Hoover's Nutcracker production, State Farm Insurance Charity Benefit for middle school students, half-time of football and basketball games and at all assemblies. Advisor and sponsor Mary Ann Spicer had this to say of the group. "This group had heart...they were just awesome."

FROM THE BEGINNING

When the school opened in 1967 and a rush of new students came in, it was as much the same as it is today. The walls had been freshly painted and the desks were clean and graffiti free. The books were brand new, with the corners still in tact, something that is rare today.

The students come for their four years and then leave; but the teachers spend a bit more time here, and they can see the changes. There are four faculty members who have seen it all. Robert Jankovitz, Jerry Gay, Gerald Hollingsworth, and Don Murphy have been here since the school opened.

The school itself and the students are not what has changed the most over the years, but rather the society around them.

"Although their clothing styles have changed, their priorities are the same: everyone wants to be successful, impress their peers, and get out of school," said Jankovitz.

What did you do before becoming a teacher?

1 My initial interest was in meteorology, but the math courses were too much. My parents had some friends that were teachers that I respected and I thought it would be a great thing for me to do.
 – Tom Ludwig

2 I started off as a dance major. I always wanted to be a professional ballet dancer.
 – Debbie Stetson

3 I had to earn all my money to go to college so I worked in a bakery, for Rural Electric Co., in factories, in building construction, and on the railroad.
 – Gerald Hollingsworth

4 I had a banking major. I wanted to be a banker like my daddy.
 – Beth Owens

5 I was a paralegal, and I didn't feel fulfilled so I went to college while I figured out what I wanted to do when I grew up. It was there that I realized that I wanted to work towards my dream of helping humanity. My first choice was a nun.

WHAT IS YOUR MOST MEMORABLE TEACHING EXPERIENCE?

One time I was all excited about the flowers blooming in the courtyard; and I went out to see them. When I came back my class was gone. They were all hiding in the dark room when I found them.

-Betty Mathers

One of my classes found out when my birthday was, and they all chipped in and hired a belly dancer. They were all working when a lady in a trench coat showed up at the door. She came in and did a belly dance on the table.

-Bob Wilkerson

When I was voted Hoover's first Teacer of All Seasons back in 1994. The reason being that every day is great and memorable, and I have lots of fun. I get rewarded every day, but that award validated everything that I was doing.

-Miriam Woods

I went to a conference one time, and I took five students with me. The teachers and students participated as equals, so my students and I learned side by side.

STARTING OVER

The 1997-98 freshmen class holds 349 total students. They came from middle schools scattered all over the Des Moines Metro area in which they were used to being the oldest and most experienced in their schools.

That all changed this year when they moved one step closer to the end of their high school careers and into Hoover. Now the freshmen have to work three more years until they are on top again. Some members of the freshmen class saw this as a positive thing, others as a negative.

"You go from making fun of people yourself to being made fun of," said Amber Bonesteel.

Amanda Bethards agreed with her when she said, "In 8th grade you get to boss everyone around, but in 9th grade you get bossed around. Freshmen don't matter."

However, there are some members of the freshmen class that see the positive side of Hoover.

"I think if I had a choice, I would never go back to middle school because high school it cool," said Jennifer Fravel.

Waiting around- Freshmen Ashley Hendrickson, Jennifer Gable, and Michelle Lind hang out outside the gym doors after the freshmen swimming unit.

MOVING

ON UP

The sophomore class learned much in their first year of high school. They learned not to ask upperclassmen questions and they learned the way things went in their new school.

This last year they were no longer freshmen. There was a class in the school under them. In pep assemblies they now sit across from the seniors.

The sophomores were involved in many activities. They have one of the largest classes in the school. One of their proudest moments was winning the spirit stick on October 24.

This last year they made even more golden memories. They will carry on the Husky traditions and stay golden.

GOLDEN

LEADERS

The class of 1999 is made of golden leaders in many ways. From the strength of the girls' cross country team to each individual that will graduate in the last class of the twentieth century, the juniors lead the school.

The juniors will be the last class to graduate in 19-something and that alone makes them great, according to C. J. Frazier.

The juniors will continue to make memories and lead the underclassmen. They will carry on the torch of success, passing down that Husky pride, and along the way they will be staying golden.

JUNIOR MEMORIES

1. "Last year on an early dismal day Tiffany DeHeer and I went to Wendy's at about 10:30a.m. We were sitting in the drive through waiting to give our order. No one asked us and Tiffany shouted that we wanted our food. A man on the other end said that they were closed."

— Holly Mayer

2. "My favorite memory was when I went to Kacy Grimaldi's house and ate Nutella and sat on the vibrating chair."

— Eric Sharp

3. "Last year during track season we were practicing for State. We asked Coach Pete to let us in the pool. He unlocked it and we all went swimming with our clothes on."

— Traci Skinner

4. "My favorite memory was freshmen year when we took the bus home from the track meet in Indianola. In the dark, truth or dare is much more fun."

END OF THE ROAD

For four years we have all longed for the day when we would walk out of Hoover for the last time. Now that that time has come, we look back and marvel at how fast the time went by.

"In the blink of an eye, it was over," said Amber Wessing.

So many things have happened and we have all changed so much, it's amazing to think that it all happened within the short span of four years.

"Seems like just yesterday we were little freshmen, and now we're already graduating. Time flies when you're having fun!," said Katie Gross.

This year is also the last year of adolescence. Many of us turn 18 this year, or already have, and are now considered official adults. Choices are now ours to make as we are faced with many challenging decisions.

"I chose to take a part in the democratic process of our country by registering to vote," said Tricia Van Zee.

"I felt the patriotic duty to serve my country by registering in the selective service," said Rob Clark.

Heading home -
Megan Smith, Dana Swanson, Abbey Williams, and Kourtney Horner walk towards the doors at the end of the day.

Make sure you make good decisions when picking classes. Senior year is difficult but also the best.

COONS

IN THE RINK

Joelle Coons has been skating for as long as she can remember and has been artistically skating since she was seven years old. She got started when she saw some girls spinning and jumping in the middle of the skating rink and thought she might like to try it, too...so she did.

It's a good thing she decided to give it a try. Joelle has been to Nationals six times, Regionals six times; and she has also been to the Olympic training center to help perfect her skills. She has also traveled to numerous competitions, such as the Mother's Day Invitational in Minnetonka, Minnesota; and others in Kansas City, Missouri; Lincoln, Nebraska; and Pensacola, Florida.

Her most memorable skating performance was two years ago in Minnetonka during a special fun competition called "Showcase".

"I had all my makeup on, and I was skating to Aladdin; so I had fake facial hair on. I went out to skate, and everyone around my club members was ranting and raving about the 'boy' that skated to Aladdin."

When Joelle is not skating up a storm, she is participating in volleyball and tennis at school. This past season she was a captain for the girls' tennis team, as well as the number one seed. She is also a member of the band, concert choir, participates in P.E.O.P.E.L. and is on the senior awards committee. She also goes to UMYF at her church.

When asked why she participates in all of these different activities, she responded by saying, "Because it gives me an opportunity to meet a lot of new people and do a lot of things."

If you could do it all over again...would you?

Yes, because it was fun; not because of school, but all the people I've met.

-Dave Lam

No. High school was awesome, but it's time to move on.

-Tricia Van Zee

No. I did everything the way I felt necessary; it was a learning experience in numerous aspects.

-Ben Gordon

No! I want school as little as possible. Maybe I would change some things, but to do it over again would be preposterous!

-Mikel Morris

No, because I might not pass the next time.

-Rob Cochran

Not in a million years would I ever do school over. The reason is because it is school.

-Robert Hixon

No, because I'm ready to get on with my life!

-Tiaesha Lee

Yes. I would be more of an academic student than a drunken fool.

-Adam McNeeley

Yes, because I have had so much fun and no, because I can't ever concentrate on my work and everyone is so anxious to get out of here; they forget to be nice to each other.

Yea, I had a blast and learned a lot, I would definitely do things differently, but I would do it again.

PLANNING

IT OUT

This year's senior board was responsible for the culmination of people involved with senior class activities. For each event that happened, it took many hours of restless meetings. Despite setbacks and disagreements, memory-making events happened. Prom was a success after months of deliberation to get the perfect moment. Eric Kintner and the breakfast club worked hard to give seniors one last early morning escapade at Hoover.

This year's student elected board was: Rob Clark(President), Tiffany Oakley(Vice-President), Dana Swanson(Treasurer), Beth Soike(Secretary), and Mrs. Billy Stone as confidante and advisor.

LOST IN A DREAM

The class of 1998 held it's prom on May 2nd from 8-11 p.m. at the Historical Building. Committee chairs, seniors Amanda Bolte, Kourtney Horner and Abbey Williams, began planning early in the year. This year's theme was "Lost in a Dream" with colors being black, plum, and silver. Cost of a ticket was fifteen dollars, but that was minimal compared to the cost of limos, tuxes and elaborate dresses.

"I spent 230 dollars on prom, and it wasn't worth it. I could have bought a Nintendo 64 and a game. I didn't even buy tickets or pictures," senior Rex Tredway said.

The dance was brightly decorated with tables lighted by candles and balloons tied about. There was much to do between taking pictures, eating and dancing. However, with the musical entertainment being delayed during the dance, it left some upset. "The entertainment was horrible...the DJ was retarded," said senior Amie Hedrick.

Others were left with a more positive experience of the night. Senior Abbey Williams said, "The best song was Footloose when all the girls were tap dancing."

Laughs and love—Seniors Brian Foster and Tiffany Oakley enjoy being with one another when attending prom.

AFTER

HOURS

Seniors gathered at Plaza Lanes during the early morning hours of May 3rd to have their last party together. Post-Prom was held from 12-5 a.m. and included a variety of entertainment planned by students' parents. Party-goers could bowl, sumo wrestle, gamble, watch a hypnotist and much more. There was also a variety of prizes that could be won, such as rollerblades, a refrigerator, telephone, VCR and more.

"It looked really nice...there were cool decorations," said senior Kourtney Horner.

Senior Amie Hedrick said, "It was fun to watch Abbey possessed."

While many students left the chaperoned activity to party, many students stayed to the end to get every bit of satisfaction. "The best part of the evening was post-prom. Even though all my friends left, I had a blast," senior Abbey Williams said.

THE FINAL BREAKFAST

The Senior Breakfast held on May 21 was the final group event before the seniors got to walk across the stage at the Knapp Center on Saturday. It was their last day to sit together in the Hoover building.

The breakfast started at 7:00 in the morning and lasted until 8:30. During the breakfast, seniors ate pancakes made by Chris Cakes and were served sausages by underclassman. If you were one of the lucky seniors chosen by Chris, you would have to catch your pancakes while they were being thrown in the air.

After the seniors finished their breakfast seniors Maggie Beavers and Eric Kintner gave out the senior breakfast awards. A lot of seniors who were given awards were shocked to find that they had won. A lot of seniors were happy with their win, while some had their noses bent out of joint. But all in all the awards portion of the breakfast was a huge success.

After the awards the seniors congregated into the large gym to practice walking across the stage for Commencement. The breakfast was agonizing boredom but the seniors finally got to go home. It was the end to four years of hard work and a lot of fun!

FAREWELL

TO THE CLASS OF 1998

May 23rd concluded the seniors' four years spent at Hoover High School as they gathered at 7 PM to receive their diplomas and to say their goodbyes. The commencement co-chairs were Ryan Baldwin and Justin Griffis.

The ceremony opened with prelude music given by the concert band. The orchestra then joined the band for the traditional Pomp and Circumstance as the graduates walked in. A welcome speech was given by Mr. McCollaugh, followed by America the Beautiful, performed by the concert and prep choirs, concert band, and orchestra.

The Jane Hentges Humanitarian Award was presented by Joelle Coons. This year's recipient was Marc Gannon. Hoover's two commencement speakers were Damion Rutues-Erwin and Beth Soike. Presentation of Diplomas was done by Laura Sands, a member of the Board of Education. Lastly, the Alma Mater was sung by Hoover Harmony to close the ceremony.

Friendly smiles—Seniors Talia Burnett and Tricia Van Zee pose for a picture after the ceremony.

May 23, 1998. The day we have all anxiously waited for has finally arrived. As we each take center stage to receive our diplomas, a combination of emotions dwell under these green caps: Feelings of pride, excitement, joy, and maybe a few inklings of fear or apprehension are present inside each one of us today. Today marks the ending to a fragment of our lives that will never leave us. Today, Hoover High School becomes a part of our past, but the experiences and memories we have obtained throughout our four years at Hoover will contribute to our bright futures that lay ahead. High school is a period of discovery. As freshmen, very few of us really knew who we were, or where we were headed; so we went about our daily routines. But as our interests flared and opportunities arose, we dove head-first into activities and academics, gradually each finding our niche. Through our pastimes and interests we have transformed and separated from the herd to become individuals, each with our own identities, unique talents, special interests, and capabilities to offer and improve the world that awaits us. Our class motto, "The dreams we hold today are tomorrows realities," will hold true as we each act on our ambitions to mold our destinies into what we want them to be. In the coming year, each of our lives will begin to take shape and in doing so will take us farther away from the familiarities of Hoover. As we venture in diverse directions, we will begin to grow distant from some of the people and places we grew to love. But all the people and experiences we shared were contributing factors that helped shape who we have become, and that cannot be lost. We will always have the extraordinary memories to look back on and cherish for the rest of our lives. I would now like to share an excerpt from Oh The Places You'll Go by Dr. Suess. "Congratulations! Today is your day. You're off to Great Places, your off and away! You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself any direction you choose. You're on your own. And you know what you know. And YOU are the person who'll decide where to go. Wherever you fly, you'll be best of the best. Wherever you go, you will top all the rest. Except when you don't, because sometimes you won't. I'm sorry to say so, but sadly it's true, that Bang-ups and Hang-ups can happen to you. So be sure when you step. Step with care and great tack and remember that life's a Great Balancing Act. Just never forget to be dexterous and deft, and never mix up your right foot with your left. And will you succeed? Yes, you will indeed! (99 and 3/4 percent guaranteed.) Kid, you'll move mountains! So be your name Buxbalm or Bixby or Bray or Mordicai Ali Van Allen O'Shea, today is your day! Your mountain is waiting, so get on your way!" My fellow graduates, today we mark the end of a great journey; but we are about to embark on an even greater one. As you step into your tomorrows, do so with a suitcase packed with courage, loyalty, humility, compassion, and laughter. Above all else, remember to follow your hearts, because it will ultimately lead you to all the happiness you desire to fulfill your dreams and enrich your lives. Congratulations, and the best of luck to everyone in the graduating class of 1998. Thank you.

Elizabeth Soike

The following are two literature pieces that were given at the Commencement ceremony by seniors Damion Rutues-Erwin and Elizabeth Soike. These students had to prepare a speech based on the class motto and present their text to a panel of judges. May the senior class find inspiration in their words.

Here we sit, "The Senior Class of 1998," on the verge of a new endeavor, desiring to begin our missions in Life, ready to pick up the reigns that those before have or will soon lay down. We have dreams of helping to shape this great nation, to in some way or another influence the lives of future young people as these mothers, fathers, ministers, teachers, and administrators have done so for us. I was taught at a young age to reach for the heavens far beyond the space and not limit myself to just the sky. For if we reach for the moon and fall among the stars, we are still on higher ground. Therefore, if the dreams we hold today truly are tomorrow's realities, then our education is not ending yet just beginning. Therefore, we press beyond this day to other institutions of learning so that we may be able to take our rightful place in America as the Doctors, Lawyers, Teachers, Clergy Men, Clergy Women, Congressmen, Congresswomen, Presidents, Judges, and PRAYER-FULLY positive examples to the young people to follow after us, as these great men and women in this room were positive examples for us. True enough, we are the America of tomorrow; so this means that we must prepare for America today. The honorable late Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. said he had a dream, and so we dream, Yet dreams only become realities when you wake up and take action. We are America, the future of this nation; and we will succeed, and we will survive.

To my son,
On June 20, 1980 at 9:00 a.m. was one of my greatest days of my life because you were born. Kris, when you were little, we called you Special K; and, Kris, you are very special to me. Now, 17 years later, when you graduate from high school will be another great day in, my life. Kris, I'm very proud of you, and, in my heart, you will always be my Special K.
Love, Dad.

Once again I looked back thru the baby pictures and all the wonderful memories. I have loved you for the little boy you were, the very special young man you are, but most of all the son you will always be. I am so proud of you, and very proud to be your mom. Stay strong and determined, and you'll always reach your goals!
Love, Mom

Such a fine young man you are. We are so very proud of you, and know your future will be bright as that endearing smile of yours.

Love always,

You've always had the ability to enjoy God's little gifts in life. Don't ever lose sight of that. Our little gift from God has now grown into a beautiful young lady. We will never lose sight of that. That's a promise! Good luck at college Moosie. Love you forever. Mom, Dad, T.J., Tim, & Lyndie. (Duncan too!)

Ben Minnis

You have always had the ability to make others smile and to embrace the happy side of life. Continue to be yourself and follow your dreams. I'll always support and love you!
Love, Mom

David Buckley

May all your wishes come true!

Love,
Dad, Mom, Matt,

-STRAIGHT TO THE HEART-

When I'm down, when my soul's in need of rest come your words of comfort and of hope
I see your face always smiling back at me
A stream of light shining straight to the heart.
Over the years I've learned one important thing
It's that real friends shall never truly be apart
You were there in my darkest time of need
With a hand reaching straight to the heart.

What a year!! Many new changes took place for the yearbook staff in 1997-1998. First off was the dramatic decrease in the amount of staffers. However, Karen and I found this to be a positive aspect rather than something to dwell on. Secondly, we were introduced to our new advisor and the woman with all the answers, Debrah Keebler. She proved to be full of wonderful ideas and tons of answers. Thanks for everything, our Keebler elf!! Thirdly, we went back to the smaller size yearbook, rather than the college size Hoover's had for two years. We found the cost to be some sort of problem and realized that designing layouts on a more square page saved loads of time. All these changes were great learning experiences for Karen and me. We'd like to send some very heartfelt thank-you's to some people. First of all, our staff. We had a great team that was willing to work effectively and patiently while Karen and I tried to smooth out any bumps that came up along the way. Thanks for everything, guys!! Secondly, to Paul Havnen, or more commonly known as Herffie, our yearbook representative. Your ideas and input have helped to make our yearbook better than ever. Lastly, to all the students and faculty who were so willing to give us information and photos when we came begging. Without you, we'd be lost and looking foolish. On a final note, thank you, Karen, for everything. You were great to work with, and I enjoyed spending the year working side-by-side with you. Best of luck after graduation-we'll miss you!!

The 1997-98 Husky had 232 pages with headlines and kickers done in Palatino. Body copy was Helvetica 12 point, photo kickers in Helvetica 9 point bold, captions in Helvetica 8 point bold, and photo credits Helvetica 6 point italics. Each section editor chose the design for the page layouts in his/her section.

Thanks for a great year everyone!! May your memories of 1997-98 be captured forever in Staying Golden.

Stay Gold

Now is the time to get out and seize your destiny
Travel, work, learn, see all there is to see
Follow your dream
Do your own
Find your place
Justify your case
The memories of the things you have done here
Will stay in your mind bright and clear
You will achieve whatever you put your mind to
We have confidence in you
Go, we set you free
But occasionally look back and think of me
The future is yours
Just wait and see how it soars
But no matter where you go, no matter what you are told
Remember to always stay gold.
